Company Information:

L.N. Curtis and Sons was founded in 1929 in Glendale, California by brothers Lloyd and Newton Curtis. Originally building and selling mechanical resuscitators they expanded the business and moved to Oakland, California. Due to the depression of the early 30's, they were unable to sustain business on building and selling resuscitators. They began to concentrate on distribution of emergency responder equipment and have become one of the most successful distributors of such equipment in the United States.

In 2009, L.N. Curtis and Sons expanded into Law Enforcement equipment distribution and have grown from a single location in 2009 to nine retail locations in six states. L.N. Curtis and Sons has grown tremendously, however we still hold the company's core values of Quality, Service, Integrity and Caring. We consider our customers as partners, and endeavor to establish long-term relationships based on education, quality law enforcement products/services, and ethical behavior.

L.N. Curtis and Sons is now in its fourth generation of family ownership and employs over 250 people. L.N. Curtis and Sons is divided into four divisions, Tools For Heros (Firefighter / EMS), Curtis Blue Line (Law Enforcement), Curtis Force Protection (Federal Government and Military), and ECMS (Cleaning, Repair, Maintenance of Fire Textiles)
