Statement of Interest:

My name is Michael Pearlman and I have been a Wyoming resident since 1996 and a Laramie County resident since 2011. Before arriving in Cheyenne, I spent my career working as a professional journalist, covering a wide range of community issues in Jackson and Sheridan. My years as a reporter in these communities required me to cover municipal planning and recreation issues, as well as the activities of elected officials, including county commissions and city councils. I have a wealth of accumulated knowledge in these areas, as well as a detailed understanding of how volunteer boards operate and how they can be most effective.

After moving to Cheyenne, starting a family and changing careers, I have been eager to serve my community. Now that I am no longer a member of the press, I'd like to take what I've learned covering these issues and apply it in an effort to improve Laramie County residents' quality of life. A seat on the Laramie County Recreation Planning & Advisory Board would be an excellent opportunity for me to start getting more involved in the community I plan to raise my children in.

Sincerely,

Michael Pearlman

Valerie Miller
