Exhibit A: Scope of Services

Licensors has designed and built an Online Reporting System for Police Departments that provides data to a specified database structure. The Online Reporting System uses the J2EE standard. Rejecting a report deletes it from the system and sends an appropriate email to the user. 9. Taxes. In addition to other amounts payable under this Subscription and Support Agreement, Customer shall pay any and all federal, state, municipal, or other taxes, duties, fees, or withholding currently or subsequently imposed on Customer's use of the Software or the payment of the License Subscription Fee to Company, other than taxes assessed against Company's net income. Such taxes, duties, fees, withholding, or other charges shall be paid by Customer or Customer shall provide the appropriate authority with evidence of exemption from such tax, duty, fee, withholding, or charge. If Company is required to pay any such tax, duty, fee, or charge, or to withhold any amount from monies due to Company from Customer pursuant to this Subscription and Support Agreement, Customer shall promptly reimburse Company any such amounts.
10. On Site Support. The Customer shall reimburse Company at the rate of $2,500.00 per day for each Company employee or contractor required for any On-Site support incurred at the Customer's direct written request and authorization. This rate shall be paid for each day that Company personnel are required to be on the Customer's site. Customer will not pay for Company personnel travel time or travel expenses. In response to written Customer requests for Company to provide on-site routine non-emergency support, Company shall produce a written estimate of the time required to provide the requested support and state any requirements, such as the presence of Customer staff or other resources or materials. Any On-Site Support provided by Company shall only be invoiced by Company or paid by Customer if the problem arose due to something other than a defect in the Software.

CUSTOMER'S OBLIGATION

11. The Customer Agrees to:

- (a) Furnish descriptions of problem(s) in the form reasonably requested by Company Support representatives;
- (b) Assist Company's efforts to reproduce the problem(s) in the applicable operating environment, and
- (c) Make available qualified, trained staff on-site to carry out Company's instructions and/or provide remote access to system(s) as requested by Company.

12. The Customer shall designate a sole Support Contact to provide routine end user support for the Customer personnel concerning the Product.

13. The Customer shall take appropriate steps to educate its end users about the need to contact the Support Contact (rather than Company directly) when support is needed. The Customer shall appropriately publicize the name, telephone number, and/or fax number and/or electronic mail address if applicable, of the Support Contact.

14. Access to Data and System. The Customer agrees to provide Company with data dumps, as requested, remote access to the Software system, and with sufficient test time on the Customer's computer system to duplicate the problem, to certify that the problem is with the Software, and to certify that the problem has been corrected.

15. The Customer shall install and maintain for the term of this Subscription and Support Agreement, a reasonable and satisfactory method of direct remote computer access to the Software. The Customer shall pay for the installation and maintenance of such access. Company shall use this access service in connection with error correction, software updating and user support only, and only upon prior written or email notice to the Customer, and Customer's acknowledgment of that notice.

16. The Customer must upgrade the Software in its entirety to the most recent version within seven business days of the release of any updates or modifications of the Software unless otherwise mutually agreed. Company will not be obligated to provide support for release versions that are more than two release versions older than the current version unless specified in this Subscription and Support agreement. Company agrees that all release versions will be tested for installation in a computer environment substantially similar to the Customer's and that all releases will be free of material defects that would affect the orderly continuation of Customer's use of the Product.

17. The Customer agrees that, subject to and in accordance with the Customer's internal policies and guidelines, it will upgrade the computer operating software, hardware and underlying database engines of the DeskOfficer Online Reporting System software as necessary to meet the changing requirements of the Software as specified by Company as part of a current release of the Software, or as the parties mutually agree. The Customer agrees that, subject to and in accordance with the Customer's internal policies and guidelines, it will maintain appropriate licenses for the computer operating software and underlying database engines required of the DeskOfficer Online Reporting System as necessary. The parties agree that Company is not obligated to ensure that its new release of the Software is compatible with outdated (exceeding 4 years from date of initial release) hardware, computer operating software or database engines).

The parties agree to maintain the confidentiality of the Confidential Information and to protect as a trade secret any portion of the other party's Confidential Information by preventing any unauthorized copying, use, distribution, installation or transfer of possession of such information. Each party agrees to maintain at least the same procedures regarding the other party's Confidential Information that it maintains with respect to its own Confidential Information.
- (b) Company acknowledges that the Customer is a governmental agency and may be required to disclose certain information under requests made according to provisions of the Public Records Act. Customer shall give notice to Company of any request for the disclosure of any information set apart and marked "confidential," "proprietary" or "trade secret" by Company. Company shall then have five (5) days from the date it receives such notice to enter into an agreement with Customer providing for the defense of, and complete indemnification and reimbursement for all costs (including plaintiff's attorney's fees) incurred by Customer in any legal action to compel the disclosure of such information under the Public Records Act. Company shall have the sole responsibility for the defense of the actual proprietary or trade secret designation of such information. The parties understand and agree that any failure by Company to respond to the notice provided by Customer and/or to enter into an agreement with Customer, as set forth above, shall constitute a complete waiver by Company of any nondisclosure or confidentiality rights hereunder with respect to such information, and such information shall be disclosed by Customer pursuant to applicable procedures required by the Public Records Act.
- (c) Both parties acknowledge that any use or disclosure of the other party's Confidential Information in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement may cause the non-disclosing party irreparable damage for which remedies other than injunctive relief may be inadequate, and both parties agree that the non-disclosing party shall be entitled to receive from a court of competent jurisdiction injunctive or other equitable relief to restrain such use or disclosure. The terms and provisions of this section shall survive any termination of this Subscription and Support Agreement.

TERMINATION

19. The Customer may terminate this Agreement at any time and for any reason upon thirty (30) days prior notice to Company.

In the event of a material default by the Customer under this agreement, Company may terminate this Agreement upon thirty (30) days prior notice to Customer, provided that Customer has been given thirty (30) days notice to cure the default.

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

20. To the extent permitted by law, neither party's liability to the other party in connection with any cause of action, costs or damages relating to this Subscription and Support Agreement shall exceed the annual fee paid in the twelve month period preceding the event giving rise to the claim.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, for purposes of the services performed by Company under this Subscription and Support Agreement, Company agrees to fully defend, indemnify and hold harmless Customer, its officers, employees and agents from any damage, loss, liability, costs (including reasonable attorneys fees), claim or cause of action arising out of injury, loss or damage to real property or tangible personal property, or arising from personal injury or death, where such damage, loss, liability, costs, claim or cause of action is caused or incurred in whole or in part as a result of any negligent or wrongful act or omission or willful misconduct of Company, its officers, employees, agents, contractors and assigns. Company's obligation hereunder is contingent upon Customer providing Company prompt written notice of any such claim, action, lawsuit or other proceeding and Customer shall fully cooperate with Company in the defense and all related settlement negotiations. The existence of any insurance policies or coverage's shall not affect the parties' rights and obligations hereunder.

GENERAL

21. This Agreement shall be binding upon the successors and assigns of both parties, provided, however that no assignment, delegation or other transfer shall be made by Company without the prior written approval of the Customer, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld.
22. This Agreement, together with Schedule A and Schedule B, which are incorporated herein by reference, is the sole and entire Agreement between the parties. This Agreement supersedes all prior understandings, agreements and documentation relating to such subject matter, except for the concurrently executed Setup and License Agreement. No modification or amendment of this Agreement will be valid or binding unless reduced to writing and duly executed by the party or parties to be bound.
23. Each party shall be excused from delays in performing or from its failure to perform hereunder to the extent that such delays or failures result from causes beyond the reasonable control of such party; provided that, in order to be excused from delay or failure to perform, such party must act diligently to remedy the cause or effect of such delay or failure to the extent the party is able. In the event of such delays, the timetables shall be extended by as many calendar days as the delay caused by forces outside the reasonable control of the parties.

24. This Subscription and Support Agreement may be executed in separate counterparts, each of which so executed and delivered shall constitute an original, but all such counterparts shall together constitute one and the same instrument. Any such counterpart may comprise one or more duplicates or duplicate signature pages, any of which may be executed by less than all of the parties provided that each party executes at least one such duplicate or duplicate signature page. The parties stipulate that a photocopy of an executed original will be admissible in evidence for all purposes in any proceeding as between the parties.
25. Any provision of this Subscription and Support Agreement or part thereof found to be illegal or unenforceable shall be deemed severed, and the balance of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.
26. This Subscription and Support Agreement shall be governed and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Wyoming. Venue of any action brought with regard to this Subscription and Support Agreement shall be the First Judicial District, Laramie County, Wyoming.

The undersigned represent and warrant that they are authorized as representatives of the party on whose behalf they are signing to sign this Agreement and to bind their respective party thereto.
